

AC-EXS[®] Using Your Own Competencies

A&DC works with an extensive list of 35 Behavioural Criteria. Each Criterion has been carefully designed to minimise overlap and to ensure there is an understanding of what is meant by its title and definition.

Organisations with their own Competencies will need to map them against the 35 Criteria that we work with in the AC-EXS range. We have therefore attempted to provide a framework which indicates how 10 of the most commonly used Competencies (with typical broad definitions) relate to the 35 Criteria the we use.

Mapping is not an exact science, but should be regarded as more of an indication of likely associations between such Competencies and our Criteria.
